

ARIS to host Harvest Festival

Written by News Desk

Thursday, 10 October 2013 15:48 - Last Updated Tuesday, 15 October 2013 16:03

Photo: Last year's Harvest King and Queen (pictured) will hand their crown over to the next King and Queen on October 24th.

Special to The Indy

Who will be the ARIS Harvest Festival King and Queen? Preparations for the Airport Road Intermediate School's Third Annual Harvest Festival are underway. On October 24, 5-8 PM, expect to see a costume contest, cake walk, hayride, haunted house, and booths for fun and games (pumpkin bowling, hairspray, glow sticks). The lunchroom will sell hot dogs, hamburgers, popcorn, and nachos for hungry visitors. All proceeds will go to ARIS teacher classroom accounts. Profits will help teachers purchase items needed for their classes. Come and see who will be the ARIS Harvest Festival King and Queen and have fun, too.